Powerful Navy For Postwar Era Urged For Nation

House Naval Affairs Committee Urges Approval Of Plans For Large Navy

INTIMATE DEFENSE FOR ATOMIC BOMB

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The House Naval Affairs committee intimated today that an effective defense has been developed against the atomic bomb and urged approval of a powerful postwar navy of 1,082 combatant vessels, 12,000 planes and 600,000 men.

In a report to the House, the committee said "there are indications that an effective counter measure to atomic bombs has been developed to such an extent that they can be exploded far short of their objective without the necessity of locating their position."

The atomic bomb does not immediately destroy the usefulness of all navies now in existence," the committee stated, "... until it is proved that the atomic bomb is effective against our ships, we can not scuttle our navy but rather we must maintain the world's most powerful navy intact."

The report revealed these important details in the Navy's postwar plans:

1. An active navy consisting of 297 major combatant ships, all completed since 1940, manned by 213,172 enlisted personnel and 13,164 officers will be maintained.

2. The remainder of the postwar fleet of 1,082 combatant vessels (compared to 1,304 at present) would consist of 104 combatant ships in a "ready reserve" which could be made for any service within 30 days and a "laid-up reserve" of 681 major combatant ships.

3. Of the present navy, 222 major combatant ships and 5,512 auxiliaries would be "excess or surplus."

4. Approximately 12,000 planes will be needed to support the postwar navy, about 8,000 of them in full active duty status.

5. Two fleets, Atlantic and Pacific, are planned.

6. The navy would "retain and maintain undisputed control" over (a) the western part of the north and south Atlantic oceans and (b) the entire Pacific ocean.

7. Total tonnage of the major combatant ships in the postwar fleet would be approximately 4,638,960 as compared with 1,382,026 for the pre-Pearl Harbor fleet.

8. Postwar bases in five fleets. (Continued on Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

One motorist is taking no chances on Old Man Winter getting him unawares. An auto was seen downtown on Wednesday afternoon, that had already been fortified with a winter front.

Friday is Columbus Day. Numerous institutions, including financial, observe the day as a holiday. Likewise it is announced from New York that the stock market will be closed on Friday, and Saturday as well this week.

Heavy frost of the morning will probably give a big impetus to falling leaves on city streets. Motorists can again heed warnings for need of caution driving on streets that are littered with leaves, oftentimes wet leaves. Treacherous driving is occasioned.

In a communication to Pa. News today, it is related that boys in Chestown area have been playing pre-halloween pranks, such as damaging ornamental lawns, blowing getting parked cars, etc., which is being monotoneous, and suggestion is made that parents direct their children to call off the program.

Congress Is Cool On Compulsory Training

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Congress indicated a willingness today to underwrite Gen. George C. Marshall's recommendation for scientific-military research but was definitely cool to his proposal for compulsory military training.

Members in both houses were high in their praise of the Army chief of staff's accomplishments. Their endorsement of the plea for continued scientific research was indicated in attention already being given legislation on the research problem—especially as to atomic energy.

Bluntly Opposed

But some key legislators bluntly opposed any proposal for compulsory military training.

Sen. McKeellar (D) Tenn., president pro tempore of the Senate, said he doubted the wisdom of such a program. He urged instead establishing officer training schools for the Army, Air Corps and Navy in each state.

Sen. Johnson (D) Colo., acting chairman of the Senate Military Affairs committee said he favored a "volunteer" army through strengthening the National Guard.

"I don't regard peacetime conscription as either necessary or desirable," Johnson declared.

House May Vote On New Tax Bill Before Nightfall

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The House began debate today on the first federal tax reduction bill in 16 years, with full intention of voting its approval by nightfall.

Climaxing nearly two weeks of feverish activity, the Ways and Means committee presented a bill calling for tax reductions of five billion 350 million dollars for both individuals and corporations, effective January 1.

The measure will be considered under a "fast" rule, with no amendments allowed except those previously approved by the committee that wrote the measure.

Senate May Expand Action

Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., minority leader on the committee indicated meanwhile that the Senate will give serious consideration to full repeal of the corporation excess profits tax when the measure is taken up in that body.

As adopted by the House committee, the bill called for a cut in the excess profits tax rate from 95 to 60 per cent for earnings in 1946 with full repeal on December 31, 1946.

U. S. Seeking To Perfect Defense Against Devastating New Weapon

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, head of the government's atomic bomb project, revealed Tuesday that the United States is working on a defense against the devastating weapon.

Groves told the House Military Affairs committee that "we are not sleeping" when he was asked if a defense against the atomic bomb is being studied, but he declined to disclose the nature of the developments.

Groves, who testified in support of the administration placing atomic control under a presidentially appointed nine-member commission, said that the atomic bomb secret cannot be kept by the United States.

"We can't keep it a secret for any great number of years," he declared. "It's merely a question of time."

Might Trade Off Secret

The expert was asked whether the legislation did not permit the president "to go to an international conference and trade off the secret—for what he thought might be some guarantee of permanent peace, let us say."

"He can," replied the witness. "The general indicated that he did not think Russia or any other nation had the industrial capacity and economic resources to surpass the United States in atomic development."

Groves warned the committee that "irreparable damage" to the United States might result, "if a mistake were made now in controlling atomic energy."

"We're flirting with national suicide if this thing gets out of control," he declared. "One mistake, and we may face national disaster."

U. S. MARINES LAND IN CHINA

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Adm. Thomas C. Kincaid, U. S. Seventh Fleet commander, announced in a pooled broadcast last night that U. S. Marines had landed at Tsingtao, China, to help maintain order in the area.

The broadcast, carried by NBC, predicted similar operations to "contribute to the security of China."

Capt. Joseph E. Ginsberg, local physician who survived the Bataan "death march," arrived home Wednesday to tell the tragic story of the Americans who fought so gallantly in defense of the Philippines—only to become prisoners of war of the Japanese for the past three and a half years.

Capt. Ginsberg is the small group of local service men unfortunate enough to fall in Japanese hands. His story begins in March 1941, nine months before Pearl Harbor, when as a member of the U. S. Medical Reserve, he left for service in the Medical Corps.

"sneak attack" on Pearl Harbor, and he remained there until Christmas of 1941.

Evacuate Manila

Immediate evacuation of Manila was necessary, at the time, and therefore no supplies could be taken. During the three months defense of Bataan, food was scarce, and very poor. Rice, which was dirty and rotten, was the only starchy meal.

On April 9, 1942, Bataan, which is really a jungle-fell. The incident will be remembered by all Americans through the history of the country. Bataan fell, and the infamous Bataan march began for the Americans. This was the murderous march for which Lt. Gen. Homma, a burly and baggy Japanese general recently assumed full responsibility when he was taken into American custody. At the fall of Bataan, over 50% of the soldiers were not fit for duty. Malnutrition and malaria existed among the troops, and deplorable condition was in existence.

To Speed Return Of U.S. Troops In Pacific Areas

Announce That 1,250,000 Will Be Back Within Next Six Months

By WILLIAM H. BUNTIN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Oct. 11.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced tonight that 1,250,000 American troops will be returned to the United States within the next six months, leaving only 400,000 in the entire Pacific area.

Leave 200,000 in Japan

Exact figures on the number that will be left to occupy Japan were not given but no more than 200,000 may be used to rule the defeated country.

Under a revised schedule to speed return of the Pacific veterans to their homes several thousand are already on the high seas and other thousands are going aboard ships daily.

By the end of October nearly two hundred and fifty thousand high point men will have been returned. They are moving into eight processing centers including Okinawa, Taichung, Japan in Korea, Manila, Honolulu and the Japanese ports of Tokyo, Yokohama and Osaka.

Occupation Troops

After screening of the high pointers Japan will be occupied by the 7th, 40th and 6th divisions from the Philippines and the 93rd, 96th, and 86th divisions.

By the end of the mass homeward movement in March the occupation forces in Japan will be reduced to (Continued on Page Two)

Coon Hunters Make Gruesome Discovery After Dog Unearths Skull Early Today

Coroner T. F. Nugent, County Detective Charles D. Ross, and state police were called to Washington township near Leesburg, at 10 o'clock this morning after a skeleton of a man, who had hanged himself was found by Joseph Hedglin, of the Leesburg district.

Hedglin had been coon-hunting in that vicinity last night and his dog brought a skull to him. A search was instituted which resulted in the finding of the body, later in the morning, and the county officials were notified.

Coroner Nugent stated that the body had evidently been there about a year and a half, as the body had fallen from the rope with which he had hanged himself in what is known as Brenneman's woods. The spot is thickly overgrown with grape vines.

The man was about five feet eight inches tall, and was of slender build. There was nothing in the clothing which might lead to identification, in fact the clothing had almost rotted away. The body was re- (Continued on Page Two)

HIT-RUN VICTIM DIES

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 11.—(INS)—John Drobek, 60, believed to be a victim of a hit and run automobile driver, died in a Uniontown hospital today several hours after he was found unconscious on a road near Masontown.

The statement was made by Lawrence D. Bell, whose firm has plants in Buffalo, N. Y., and Marietta, Ga. He was the first of seven major eastern aircraft firm presidents scheduled to appear before the Senate War Investigating committee.

"It would not be too much to suggest that we could appreciate for research and development in time of peace as much each year as we did annually for such purposes in time of war," Bell told the committee.

"Whatever the size of the air force to be maintained," he added, "and that is a question which Congress must decide, I am certain that it must be replaced at a rapid rate to keep it modern."

Rubber Situation In Malaya Better

LONDON.—The Exchange Telegraph said in a dispatch from Kuala Lumpur, Malaya, that the rubber situation in Malaya is much better than was expected and stories of destruction over vast areas are now being discounted.

British military headquarters spokesmen were quoted as estimating that of the 3,500,000 acres of Malaya rubber plantations not more than five percent was destroyed by Japanese to make room for increased food production.

Official figures disclose that 33,000 tons of rubber in bulk and approximately 350,000 gallons of latex have been found so far in north and south Johore. All of this is ready for export.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Reports from Manila today said that a 12-hour typhoon had left 90,000 American soldiers homeless on Okinawa and killed at least five persons.

He quoted returned correspondents as saying that many small craft were seen beached on the shore.

Settlement Of Coal Strike Is Still Delayed

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach conferred with President Truman today on the coal strike conference and reported that the president is "very anxious" for the conference to get together.

Schwellenbach said, however, that the president gave him no formal message to deliver to the deadlocked coal conference between bituminous operators and United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis. The conference resumed at 11 a. m. EST today.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The deadlocked coal strike conference was scheduled to be resumed today with no indication of a compromise settlement for the spreading fuel strike.

United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators met with Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach during Wednesday afternoon and last night without making any progress.

Emerging from the night session, Schwellenbach said that the conference were in the same position as the day before. They are discussing a compromise proposal made by the labor secretary.

The strike began September 21 over the UMW's attempt to unionize mine foremen and supervisory employees.

The walkout has already begun to cut steel operations and officials have warned that reconversion program will suffer unless the dispute is ended soon.

Wages are not involved in the coal dispute.

Lewis has proposed to send the miners back to work pending negotiations of the foremen unionization controversy. The operators wanted a paragraph included in the peace offer stipulating that they were not waiving their position that foremen are a part of management and should not be unionized.

The UMW chief objected, and Schwellenbach said he would write a letter to the conference setting forth his interpretation of the UMW offer. This was acceptable to both sides but Lewis refused the owners' request that the letter be made a part of the offer and the conference were thrown into another stalemate.

He struck out at a few selfish men—unnamed—who he said are "unwilling to meet their difficulties and go back to work."

The chief executive chose the occasion of his dedication of the new 115 million dollar Kentucky Dam, a TVA project on the Tennessee river at Gilbertsville, Tenn., to declare that the nation's present troubles of reconversion and readjustment from war to peace "are not serious, but simply the result of reaction from war."

Following the provisions of a new state act concerning the health of public school students, two dentists and a physician have been added to the professional staff of the New Castle schools and examinations of children are starting this week.

Under the new act every school child will be given a dental and health examination in grades one, three, five, seven, nine and 11. In addition, all persons employed by the school system, which means teachers, principals, janitors, etc., must be given a health examination.

Superintendent Frank L. Burton announced at the school board meeting Wednesday night that the work of examination was just starting.

Sweeping Changes Ordered In Japan By Gen. M'Arthur

Social And Economic Structure To Undergo Far- Reaching Changes In Future

M ARTHUR TALKS TO JAPAN'S PREMIER

By JOHN R. HENRY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Oct. 11.—Sweeping revision of the entire Japanese social and economic structure was ordered today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur in a five-point program laid down for Premier Baron Kijuro Shidenara's new cabinet.

The supreme allied commander received Shidenara at his Tokyo headquarters late this afternoon and outlined a far-reaching program for Japan to achieve the Potsdam objectives.

Points Presented

MacArthur emphasized the following points during the historic interview:

1. Women must be emancipated through the voting franchise.

2. Labor should be encouraged to unionize.

3. Japan's educational system must be liberalized.

4. Governmental inspection systems must be abolished along with the practice of imprisoning persons for political reasons.

5. The nation's economic system must be revised to prevent monopolistic control of industries.

In outlining the measures he suggested, MacArthur said Shidenara the Japanese constitution "unquestionably" would have to be liberalized.

Some of the points stressed by MacArthur had been publicly advocated previously by Shidenara, including the enfranchisement of women.

Cabinet Meeting

A cabinet meeting preceding Shidenara's visit with the general had ordered an extraordinary Diet session for early December to enact women's suffrage, an action never before considered by the Japanese government

Frew Book To End 36 Years School Service

Another landmark of the New Castle public school system will pass from the active scene October 31 when Frew Book, janitor of the Thaddeus Stevens school for the past 36 years retires. Mr. Book's retirement resignation was presented to the school board Wednesday night and was accepted with regret. Upon motion of Director Daniel B. Woolcock, Secretary John B. Bechtel was instructed to write a letter of appreciation to Mr. Book for his long and faithful service to the system.

Mr. Book the janitor at Thaddeus Stevens is not sufficient. He has been the custodian, the mechanic, the engineer, the confidant and constant of principals and teachers, and the monitor of the students when at times some of them were bent on mischief.

Some of the students in the school today are grandchildren of boys and girls he knew in his earlier days of service at Thaddeus Stevens. Sinking of his work in the school, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds S. G. Ligo said to the board Wednesday night "Mr. Book has been one of the outstanding men in the school system. His work has been uniformly satisfactory, and occasionally he went beyond the call of duty in order to do a good job. He will be hard to replace."

recommendation for continued scientific development to assure the armed forces the best in equipment.

In taking issue with the general recommendations, contained in his historic report to the secretary of war, McKellar said Marshall has "not received the credit from the public that is really due him."

"The idea of our fighting wars in two hemispheres against the two greatest universal compulsory service military nations that the world ever produced at the same time and winning them both... was the greatest war effort of all time. We never had a chance to lose."

"I doubt the wisdom of universal compulsory military training. If a war came only to those trained within the last two years before the war would that training be of much value."

Following council meeting, held in city hall, today, representative of the Miller Manual Multiple Coin parking meter gave a public demonstration in council chambers, city hall.

City officials, municipal employees and newspapermen witnessed the demonstration. The meter can park for 12 minutes up to two hours.

The meter and post costs $75 plus installation which averages $3.00. Council did not indicate whether or not any meters would be purchased following the demonstration.

CAPT. J. E. GINSBERG REACHES HOME

prison camp, otherwise known as Philippine Prison Camp No. 1. There was a little improvement here, but not much. He stayed here until July 1944.

It was at this camp that Dr. Ginsberg was with Major James C. Blanning of this city, and Major Stanley Holmes who perished enroute to Japan, when the troop ships were sunk, and with Lt. Col. John B. Brettell, Mahoningtown, who died early in January of this year in Japan; and also with Capt. Fred Black, formerly of New Castle, and now of the South. At the last report, Capt. Black had reached Japan.

Food as usual was scarce, calories averaging to approximately 1600 a day. There were no medicines of any kind to combat the epidemics suffered during the early days of the camp. During October and November 1942, the Japanese had a change of heart, and a little medicine was received from somewhere, and it was used for the more serious patients who were ill. There was also a little canned milk, which was salvaged from Manila.

Dropped To 110 Pounds

Capt. Ginsberg's weight had gone down to 110 pounds at this time, from his original 170 pounds. Since his release he has gained a little weight, reaching 155 pounds. With a little rest he will soon regain his excellent health. He did not suffer any severe illness.

No recreation was permitted in any of the Japanese camps, and any diversionary pastime had to be done "undercover." Japanese atrocities to the prisoners were brutal and happened often. Medical men, although not given preferential treatment, were shown a little more consideration, due to the fact that the Japanese depended upon their medical knowledge and skill. Capt. Ginsberg's valuables were confiscated among which was a diamond ring and wrist watch. The Japs loved to see superior, and exercised the fact, if prisoners were timid.

Received Only One Letter

During the time of his captivity Capt. Ginsberg received only one letter from home, and one package. His family received five form cards from him. He also sent a radio gram, but the message was not received here.

On July 16, 1944, prisoners were evacuated to Japan proper. Six ships were in the convoy, two of which were sunk in the crossing. There were no markings upon the ship to designate that they were prisoner troop ships, and the Nisaea Maru, a 5,000 ton freighter on which Capt. Ginsberg sailed, was almost sunk in the crossing. About 1500 prisoners were aboard, and conditions existing were "very bad." Capt. Ginsberg was in charge of a group of 320 men, with two officers, he being the physician of the group.

Sent To Nagoya Area

They landed on the Kiyushu Islands, August 3, 1944, and later were sent to a camp in the Nagoya area where the men were put to work in lead mines. Capt. Ginsberg attended sick and the ailing of which there were plenty. The camp known as the Nagoya sub-camp No. 1 already had 200 Dutchmen confined, and the prisoners were stationed here until their liberation.

Also in this camp was Cpl. Milton Francis Hollins, Bessemer marine later liberated and now in the Oakland Naval Hospital, Oakland, Calif.

The Americans knew of the end of the war about August 17, but it wasn't until August 20 that they were informed of the news by the Japs. As the American victory became more certain, the attitude of the Jap guards became more arrogant and unbearable, unlike other Jap guards in camp who became "friendly" as the war ended. Supplies dropped by our planes brightened the atmosphere of the camp until the day of liberation, which was on September 6, 1945.

Sent To Yokohama

Prisoners released in the Osaka district were sent to Yokohama, and then were flown to Okinawa and on to the Philippines. Capt. Ginsberg departed from Manila aboard the U. S. S. Rodman, arriving in San Francisco, Calif., on October 3.

At present his future plans are indefinite. He is on a 90 day leave with an additional four months terminal leave, and expected discharge. He resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ginsberg, and brother, David Ginsberg, at 328 East Moody avenue. His sister, Mrs. Max Cable resides in Cincinnati, O.

In a Previous Interview in Yokohama

Capt. Ginsberg who has been in the Medical Reserve since 1936 stated that he was "coming back to New Castle and neither hell nor high water will get me out of there." The men who were captured on Bataan and Corregidor, have seen Japanese character in the raw, and in the words of an other great soldier, Gen. Wainwright who recently "came back" "It is important that the American people understand the nature of the Japanese; and before Japan is allowed to take her place among the respected nations, she must be made to realize that her medieval ways have no place in our modern world."

Congratulations upon his return home after an absence since March 1941, have already been extended to Capt. Ginsberg, by his many friends here.

trying to block the nation's recovery effort, and asserted that they will not succeed.

"We will have a few selfish men who think more of their personal interests than they do of the public welfare," he told a crowd of several thousand Kentuckians who gathered at the base of the gigantic new hydro-electric, flood control, and navigation project.

But they are not going to prevail. You are not going to let them prevail. You are going to force everybody to get into harness and push and pull until that great age I am prophesying comes about."

Great Age Ahead

Mr. Truman said the country can look forward to the greatest age in history if it will "get on the job."

The president said that in the coming age of atomic energy the United States faces its greatest era.

"We must assume that responsibility," he said. "We are going to assume it, and everyone of you and all of us are going to work for the welfare of the world in peace just as we worked for the welfare of the world in war. That is absolutely essential and necessary."

He said that, of course, that will take time.

"Now let's all go home and go to work, cut out the foolishness and make this country what it ought to be—the greatest nation the sun has ever shone upon."

Mrs. C. C. Porter of 507 Norwood avenue, announces the marriage of her daughter, Cpl. Lois G. Porter to Cpl. George C. Rinehart Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Rinehart, Sr. of Addison, Mich.

The beautiful ceremony took place at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, September 18, 1945, in Christ church, Padgate, Warrington, England, with Rev. J. Swaine officiating at the double ring service. Cpl. Porter was given in marriage by Capt. C. Anderson, of the Army Air Force.

Set Anna K. Goffar of Rawlins, Wyo. was the bride's only attendant. Set Robert Gaines of Fayetteville, N. C. served the groom as best man, while B. Hickman, of Warrington, was groomsmen.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 40 friends of the young couple took place at the Church House.

B. P. W. INITIATES

AT OCTOBER MEETING

Business and Professional Women's club met for dinner and initiation of new members in the coral room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral Wednesday evening. Legislation committee of the club, Miss Dorothy Parry, Miss Margaret Montgomery, Mrs. Hazel Boyd, Miss Olivia Griffiths, Miss Laura Blucher, Mrs. Marjorie Nelson and Mrs. Helen Usselman, were in charge of the program of the evening.

Nunie F. Vidal of the Pennsylvania Power company spoke on the postwar business and industrial outlook for New Castle. The things that attract new industries to a community are the same that cause those already located here to flourish, he pointed out.

Speaking of the five basic industries of New Castle, he said the picture has changed in the iron and steel industry and today calls for fabricating plants rather than production of raw materials. It is natural for plants engaged in processing to locate where material is available in a community that is attractive to them. Of the other industries in this county, mining and quarrying, ceramics, non-ferrous metals, and the chemical, all are flourishing and faced by almost no reconversion problems.

Looking to the future, he said, what we all can do is to make New Castle a community attractive to desirable industries so that we can keep a "good industrial climate."

One interesting fact in the local employment picture is that only 36 per cent of the total employed are engaged in industry and the second largest group of employers is the mercantile and professional group, he pointed out. Mr. Vidal was introduced by Miss Dorothy Parry.

Formal initiation of new members was presided over by Miss Mary Scherger, president. Those taken into membership were Miss Marian Clark, Miss Audrie Cronin, Miss Marietta Daugherty, Miss Ruth Garrity, Miss Ruth Hanna and Miss Jean Wimer.

Yearbooks were distributed by the program coordination committee. Miss Aleta Montgomery, chairman, announced that the B. P. W. District No. 2 meeting will be held in Beaver Falls at the Hotel Broadhead on October 20. Miss Dorothy Young is in charge of reservations to be made by October 16.

November 14 is the date of the next regular meeting when the International Relations committee will be in charge. On October 24 there will be an executive board meeting at the Y.W.C.A. at 7:30 p. m.

Confession Of Mass Murder Made At Trial

At Least 50,000 Persons, Mentally Afflicted, Were Put To Death At Asylum

WIESBADEN, Germany, Oct. 11.—(INS).—The first atrocity trial in the U. S. Zone of Occupation in Germany produced a confession of mass murder signed by two officials of the Hadamar Insane asylum.

The statement, signed by Alfonso Klein, the asylum's administrator, and Heinrich Ruoff, chief male nurse, told how the institution was converted from a Wehrmacht hospital in 1940 to a place for the mass execution of mental cases.

The asylum went into the extermination business after being leased to "the organization of common welfare through institutional care," the confessions said.

The first plan called for the gas killing of mental cases but the method of execution was changed to poisonous injections when residents of Hadamar objected.

According to the evidence so far produced at the trial, at least 50,000 persons of all ages, most of them Germans, were killed at Hadamar. All victims thought they were brought to the asylum for treatment and submitted willingly to the injections.

attending a new school near the end of the school year. He has remarked at home that he cannot understand these new schoolmates. They never misbehave when the teacher is out of the room. They never talk or do anything wrong, but study. His marks have risen surprisingly since then. If his poor marks were due to his not being able to do the work, he would have suffered a setback in changing schools. He raised his marks the very day he entered the new school, which proves, to me, his attitude toward school held him back in the old school. A stamped envelope is enclosed.

In answering this mother I tried to help her see the principles I already stated and how wrong it was to punish this boy at home for his poor work at school. I enclosed my bulletin, "Parents and the Child's Homework."

In spite of this better school, the mother understood that the boy would be promoted and decided to send him to summer school. It was probably a good idea but, unfortunately, this mother revealed a wrong purpose. "I believe that if he is forced to attend school this summer he'll do no fooling next term."

Regrettably the teacher who promoted this boy to the sixth grade provided no guarantee that he would be helped to make up his arrears during the summer or be placed in a class in the fall where he would be set to do what he could succeed at.

Equipment For Schools Ordered By Board Action

Several purchases of equipment needed in the school system were authorized by the New Castle School board Wednesday night at the monthly business meeting in the Administration building in East street.

The board authorized the purchase of a four kilowatt motor generator set from the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company for instructional purposes in the vocational school.

Two spring boards for swimming pools at $49.90 each, a parallel bar at $25.90 and a vaulting back at $16.16 were ordered for gymnasium work from the Sporting Goods Store.

One hundred dollars was allotted to Rose Avenue and Oak Street schools for visual education. The two sums will be applied to the purchase price of a motion picture machine which has been secured by Principal John Cornelius of the two schools. The cost of the machine is $437 of which $237 has been paid from the receipts from tin can collections.

Seek To Give Congress Control Of Atomic Secret

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—An effort was underway today to give congress control over disclosure of the atomic secret.

Rep. May (D) Ky., predicted that some action would be taken by the house military affairs committee to prevent the president from revealing the secret without the consent of congress.

"I'm sure the committee will give congress a voice in the matter," declared May.

The committee, of which May is chairman, met in executive session following a one-day public hearing to act upon an administration bill placing the government in complete control over the development of atomic energy.

May called up Bill.

May expressed the hope the committee would approve the bill and possibly call it up Monday in the house for consideration. He is sponsor of the measure.

The legislation places control over all atomic development in the hands of a presidentially-appointed nine-member atomic energy commission.

The question of the president's authority to reveal the secret of the splitting of the atom to a foreign nation was raised principally by Rep. Elston (R) Ohio.

Under questioning Secretary of War Patterson declared that the president already held that authority. Elston said he would offer an amendment making it mandatory to obtain the approval of congress before the secret could be revealed.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, director of the office of scientific research and development, conceded that the legislation would "nationalize atomic energy" but asserted that this was essential.

Unrestrained experimentation might cause great harm, he warned the committee. Someone working on atomic control in his own home might sterilize every passer-by," he stated, "or blow up the neighborhood."

Meredith, who took part in the battle of Midway, the Guadalcanal and Solomon campaigns, is assisted by T-4 Joseph DiGiannarino of New Castle, who saw service with the 96th chemical mortar battalion in France, Belgium and Germany.

The local station is part of the nation-wide campaign to fill the ranks of the regular army with men between the ages of 18 and 34 who desire to take advantage of the opportunities of travel, education and security offered by a career in the best army in the world.

BROODY COOP MAKES HENS LAY QUICKER

Broodiness, a problem of poultrymen at all seasons, can be greatly reduced in the laying flock by use of a satisfactory broody coop in each pen. As soon as a broody hen is observed, she can be removed from the nest, placed in the coop and her brooding instinct definitely discouraged.

To reduce time lost in the broody period, provide the broody coop with a wire or slat-bottom floor. Then the hen is unable to settle comfortably or make a nest. At the same time movement of air about the hen has a tendency to reduce the temperature of the bird instead of accumulating for incubation purposes. In this way the broody hen is readily discouraged, and returns to production more quickly.

The broody coop may be placed over a portion of the roosts or fastened to a wall of the pen. Height off the floor should be convenient to provide ample feed and water, to keep the bird in good flesh and condition for production.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with aching and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Many Problems Before Byrnes

Secretary Of State Is Confronted With Many Headaches Of Diplomacy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes suffered today from the many headaches of diplomacy.

A little more than three months have passed since he solemnly took his oath of office at elaborate White House ceremonies. His job, preparing for postwar peace, was then becoming one of the greatest to confront a United States official.

Time has increased, not diminished, his burdens. The peace, for him, has become just the beginning of conflicts that must be solved by negotiation, not force of arms.

Chief Problems

There are his chief problems:

1. Getting the council of foreign ministers, bogged down in disagreement, into operation again. It involves peace treaties throughout Europe and, unless it can be made to function, may threaten the life of the United Nations organization even before it is born.
2. Setting up machinery for Allied cooperation in the Far East on which there is a wide difference among the major powers.
3. Restoration of solidarity in the Western Hemisphere and the conclusion of a treaty of mutual assistance with the 20 other republics. The task is complicated by the Argentine situation, which can only be cured from within.
4. Reorganizing the State department, even now handicapped in its dealings to a point where it can meet the unprecedented demands of postwar diplomacy.

Thus far Byrnes' experiences have been mostly unfortunate. Although a skilled negotiator and conciliator, he was unable to make progress in London, British and Russian claims were deeply in conflict and he has made no secret of his discouragement since his return.

In the Far East, the situation has been complicated by Britain's rejection of the proposal that India have a voice on the Allied advisory commission. P. has also been tangled by Russia's desire for the creation of an Allied control council. The United States fears that this might throw the Far East into the same divisions that prevail in Europe.

The resignation of "Strong Man" Juan Peron from the Argentine government has given some hope that the Latin-American front soon may quiet down. But observers of that area foresee that other problems are likely to rise.

Detroit Labor Problems Will Be Dominant

Will Be Topmost Problem In Labor-Management Conference At Washington

DETROIT, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Government sources disclosed today that labor problems in Detroit will dominate the labor-management conference in Washington November 5.

Agreement on "what causes strikes" will be the No. 1 problem facing the conference, although President Truman has stated that "nothing of a controversial nature will be discussed."

Other details of the conference according to government officials, include:

- 1.—The conference is to continue for at least 30 days and all decisions must be reached by unanimous agreement.
- 2.—There will be approximately 42 delegates in attendance, divided as follows: CIO, 10; AFL, 10; National Manufacturers association, 10; National Chamber of Commerce, 10; and John L. Lewis and one other delegate from the United Mine Workers Union.
- 3.—Each delegate will have a consultant—an expert on labor problems—but delegates will have no choice in the selection of consultants.

The consultants will be appointed by a four-man steering committee. The conference will have a chairman and a secretary, George Davis, chairman of the National War Labor board who is resigning from the board tomorrow. Name of the chairman will be announced later.

Plans To Expand Rural Electric Program In U.S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The Rural Electrification Administration today announced that it will allocate $100 million for the expansion of its program in the United States.

Under provision of the REA act, each state may share in these funds in the proportion which its unelectrified farms bears to the total number of such farms in the United States.

Our entire economy will benefit from the accelerated rural electrification program, Wickard said. "Employment will be created for thousands of workers producing materials, building rural power systems, wiring rural homes, and manufacturing and distributing electrical equipment needed on the farm and in the rural home."

Wickard said he based the allocation on agriculture department estimates showing that 3,371,189 of the nation's farms are still without electricity. The sum represents half of the REA loan funds available for the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1946.

Labeling electrification of American farms as one of "our major tasks," the REA chief asserted that the demand for rural electric lines is becoming increasingly acute.

He promised "all possible speed in rushing to completion the greatly expanded program which has already been authorized."

Greater Undertakings
"We are prepared for even greater undertakings," the former agriculture secretary declared.

Statistics show that 44.7 percent of all U. S. farms are now electrified, he continued, as compared with 11 percent when the REA program was started in 1935.

Largest allocation of funds will go to Texas—$8,101,059—followed by Mississippi with $7,018,058 and Kentucky with $5,558,692. Other state grants included: Ohio $1,458,921 and Pennsylvania $1,567,014.

Under provision of the REA act, each state may share in these funds in the proportion which its unelectrified farms bears to the total number of such farms in the United States.

Our entire economy will benefit from the accelerated rural electrification program, Wickard said. "Employment will be created for thousands of workers producing materials, building rural power systems, wiring rural homes, and manufacturing and distributing electrical equipment needed on the farm and in the rural home."

Is Ready To Die Before
Firing Squad

PARIS, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Pierre Laval prepared today to face his immediate execution in the hope he would overthrow Provisional President Charles DeGaulle by intensifying the division of opinion sweeping France in the wake of the former Vichy premier's treason trial. Handcuffed and suffering acutely from stomach ulcers, the "Black Peter" of the dark days of France told his daughter Josie in his death cell at Fresnes prison:

"I refuse to permit efforts of my lawyers to secure a retrial. I am determined that the execution be carried out immediately."

"Prepare at once for my death," Laval said.

"An unconfirmed NBC broadcast from Paris said Laval's execution before a firing squad 'probably will take place this morning.'"

"However, informed sources in Paris said his execution was extremely unlikely with Gen. DeGaulle present in Brussels."

Condemned Tuesday after a trial in which both judge and jury shouted accusations and which aroused bitterness throughout France, Laval hopes that his execution at the psychological moment will cause a permanent rupture in the DeGaulle ranks.

Both Laval and his defense attorneys absented themselves when the high court of justice pronounced sentence at the end of a stormy trial which saw him twice ejected from the courtroom after he exchanged insults with both judge and jury.

Laval himself termed the entire proceedings a "farce."

Defendant In Belsen Trial Gives Testimony

Claims To Have Saved Several Hundred Girls From Gas Chambers On Relatives' Pleading

LUENEBURG, Germany, Oct. 11.—(INS)—A former photographer defending his actions as second in command at the Oswiecim and Belsen concentration camps testified today that he saved several hundred girls from the gas chambers on the plea of relatives.

He was Franz Hoessler, who said he considered that his alteration of death lists without permission proved that "I did not approve of the policy of liquidating Jews."

The one-time underling of Josef Kramer said he was "appalled" at the number of sick and the overcrowded conditions he found in the Oswiecim women's compound.

Hoessler, on trial with the "Beast of Belsen" and 43 others before a British military court, admitted checking arriving prisoners to be sure none escaped, but denied seeing victims for cremation or that he commanded the crematoriums.

Protesting his sympathy for the internees and his efforts in their behalf, Hoessler said that by "superhuman efforts" he deloused the Oswiecim camp in three weeks after finding women sleeping seven in a bunk.

Hoessler's protestations of sympathy for the victims of Nazi persecution followed the same pattern as those presented earlier by Kramer. He was transferred to Oswiecim from the notorious Dachau camp near Berlin.

Senator Calls For Speedy Action In Labor Trouble

Says Congress Should Get Adequate Labor Legislation Passed To Meet Situation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(INS).—Sen. Wherry (R., Neb.), Senate minority whip on Wednesday called on administration leaders "to assume their responsibility" for legislation to smooth out the nation's labor troubles.

Wherry said that "it's up to the majority to get labor legislation passed."

The Nebraska senator asserted that unless legislation involving compulsory arbitration of disputes is approved, "we're not going to get reconciliation."

"We're talking about full employment, unemployment compensation and minimum wage when we should be thinking about legislation to get people back to work," Wherry declared.

Sen. Murray (D., Mont.), chairman of the Senate labor committee, said however, that it will be weeks before hearing can start on the Ball-Burton-Hatch labor bill, which includes compulsory arbitration.

Murray declared that such legislation, if it were passed, "would do more damage than good."

Must Have Solution
"You can't coerce labor," he said. "You have to have a reasonable solution to offer."

Murray said he believes he sees "an appearance of getting through with this epidemic of strikes."

He explained that his busy committee must dispose of the minimum wage bill and education, hospital and dental proposals before doing anything with the Ball-Burton-Hatch measure.

Sen. Andrews (D., Fla.), interrupted criticism on the Senate floor of the army and navy demobilization policies to urge that "Congress get busy and end these strikes."

Veterans may come back to find their families will be without coal next winter as result of strikes, he said, adding that "maybe they won't even be able to telephone home" when they reach the United States.

Blame Communists For British Strike

LONDON, Oct. 11.—(INS).—London trade union circles said today they were convinced Communist influences lay behind the strike of 40,000 London longshoremen which threatens serious curtailment of food supplies and grave labor unrest.

Make Progress On Plans For School Building Program

President Leslie Brindle of the New Castle school board was named by the directors Wednesday night at the board meeting to be the authorized representative of the board to sign all papers in connection with the proposed construction of a new gymnasium, music room, cafeteria and class rooms for the senior high school.

The board has made considerable preliminary examination of the possibility, preliminary plans have been drawn which have cost the board nothing, and the matter has now progressed to the point where it is necessary to present the idea to the Department of Public Instruction for approval and to the Post War Planning Board for part of the money with which to build.

The plans are drawn in such a fashion that the gymnasium itself could be included or the class rooms and music rooms could be included. If the entire four units were built the estimated costs for everything, including plans, materials, labor and supervision is $502,000.

Of the amount, the state will be asked for 50 per cent, the other 50 per cent to be furnished by the school district. A committee of board members will go to Harrisburg shortly to present the preliminary plans and answer questions as to the details of the proposed plans and answer questions as to the details of the proposed plan.

Driver Is Held After Accident

MERCER, Oct. 11.—Floyd Mathieson, of 330 Elm street, Grove City, was arrested Tuesday afternoon by state police from the Mercer station on a charge of "hit and run driving," and when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Thomas McClain of Mercer, entered a plea of guilty, and was held for the December term of quarter sessions court in $300 cash bail.

The arrest was the result of an automobile accident which occurred on Route 78, about four miles south of Grove City, in Liberty township, when the coal truck driven by Mathieson is claimed to have struck a Ford truck with a tar buggy attached, operated by Earl C. Heasley, of R. D. 2, Grove City, a caretaker for the State Highway Department, who had pulled the truck to the side of the road to prepare tar.

Heasley stated that the coal truck in passing struck and damaged his truck and proceeded on. The name of the offending operator was learned in Slippery Rock, and he was located at his home in Grove City. When arrested by the state police, Mathieson stated that he did not know that he had struck the other car.

The damage to the two machines was slight, that of the Heasley truck estimated at $50 and the Mathieson truck $10.

WAKE UP YOUR DIGESTION BELOW THE BELT

Without Stomach Relievers
This Kind of Laxative Help Often Needed When Lower Sluggishness Causes Gassy, Bloating Misery

When most food leaves the stomach, it is by no means fully digested. It is in the 2nd or 3rd of intestines that the greater part of digestion is done. When we get constipated these later stages of digestion are slowed down. Then food is apt to ferment and decay excessively in the bowels. As a result we may feel full of gassy bloating and other indignities. That's when you need Bismark's Pills. They work to relieve this congestion of waste and encourage the welcome elimination which helps promote better digestion below the belt. Ask your druggist for gentle, all-vegetable Bismark's Pills today. Caution: Use only as directed, 25c.

Kiwanians Give Recognition To Press Wednesday

National Newspaper Week Observed By Tribute To News At Meeting In The Castleton

New Castle Kiwanis Club gave recognition to The News at their meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday, as part of a nationwide observance of National Newspaper Week. When they invited Charles E. Allen, who handles their publicity, to speak to them.

Mr. Allen pointed out the contribution the newspapers have given to the upbuilding of the nation, and of the efforts of The News to promote the best interests of New Castle. He also related a number of humorous incidents which have occurred during his newspaper career.

Special guests of the club included W. J. Tate, of London, Eng., who is associated with the Johnson Bronze Company in their British branch; Flight Officer George Lusk, home on leave from the service; and Fred Barkley, S. C. son of Harry Barkby, president of the Kiwanis Club, who is home on leave.

Flight Officer Lusk, who served in the Mediterranean Theater, spoke of his experiences during the war. He has been piloting a C-47 plane during recent months, flying back military personnel from overseas to the United States.

Urges Observance Of National Bible Week

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—Pennsylvanians today had a warning from Gov. Edward Martin that the teachings of the Bible must be "given universal acceptance as the basis of human conduct" before an enduring peace can be established. The governor urged state residents to participate in observance of National Bible Week, October 15 to 21.

"to encourage and stimulate more widespread reading of the Bible as a part of everyday life." "Within the pages of the holy Bible may be found inspiration and guidance for the establishment of enduring peace and justice on earth," Martin said.

"Wars will cease and men in all the world will live as brothers only when its sacred lessons are given universal acceptance as the basis of human conduct."

Gen. MacArthur's Position In Japan Not Being Altered

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes declared today that creation of the Far Eastern advisory commission will not alter General Douglas MacArthur's status as sole command-in-chief controlling Japan during occupation. Byrnes said that any alteration in MacArthur's status would violate the terms of the surrender agreement, which he described as a contract, to make Emperor Hirohito subordinate only to the Allied commander-in-chief.

He also revealed that Russia has proposed that an Allied control council be established for Japan.

Byrnes added, however, that he was convinced that such a council should only be set up after a meeting of the Far East advisory commission which would establish policy among the Pacific powers for long-range control of Japan. Telegrams inviting the interested powers to participate were sent on October 6, Byrnes said. They informed the invited powers that the United States wanted to hold a meeting and asked them to appoint their delegates. The meeting is contemplated for October 23 in Washington.

Plant Being Expanded By Mooney Bros.

Plant expansions and improvements in excess of $100,000 were announced today by Mooney Brothers, located on Mahoning avenue and engaged in general truck, building supplies, and the manufacture of concrete products. The expansion, which is already under way, includes a new retail building, new concrete block machinery with necessary housing such as building, curing ovens, overhead cranes and the like. The expansion will add to an already large plant and put Mooney Brothers in the forefront of the building supply industry.

Huge Building
The new retail building is partially constructed now. In size it will be one story high, 187 long and fifty-four feet wide. Construction will be of concrete block, steel, stone and glass, with the front end of the building almost solidly block glass. A loading dock running the length of the eastern side of the building and the south end which is the front, has been constructed and over this entire loading dock will be a marquee protecting inbound and outbound loads from the inclement weather. On the west side are railroad tracks to permit loading and unloading into cars from the building itself. The roof will be of cement tile, a product of Mooney Brothers, as is the concrete block.

In appearance the building is a departure from the usual concrete block building. Architectural art has been added and the usual rigidity of square construction found in concrete block construction has been softened by curves and angles which give the building a modernistic appearance.

The new retail building will be an outlet not only for concrete products manufactured by Mooney Brothers, but for a complete line of building supplies, farm and garden tools and supplies and other collateral lines of merchandise. The size of the building will permit a heavy stock of merchandise to be carried with plenty of display and sales space.

New Machinery
The new concrete block machinery is on order and delivery will be made sometime in November it is hoped. The new machinery will be almost completely automatic and will increase the production of concrete blocks from about 1300 per day to over 5000. After the blocks are manufactured, they will be carried by carrier system to the curing rooms which have been constructed and along with the machinery and equipment the company has added some modern methods of concrete block construction which will give customers a more artistic looking block with additional wearing qualities.

A new driveway has been opened into the plant from Mahoning avenue which ends in a loop in front of the new retail building. The new concrete block plant will be to the north and east of the retail building.

"We believe in the future" said Samuel A. Mooney, president of the company. "We believe the post-war years will see many new homes and buildings erected in Lawrence and adjoining counties and we want to have our part in providing the materials for the construction. Our program of expansion is an ambitious one but we are willing to risk our faith in the future on the investment necessary."

Duke Of Windsor Convinces Family On Wife's Status

Former King Will Return To England And Duchess Wallie Will Accompany Him

LONDON, Oct. 11.—(INS)—The Duke of Windsor left England for Paris today with the statement that the next time he came back "the duchess is coming with me."

The former Edward VIII, one-time king-emperor, was thought to have made his first visit home in nine years to seek royal recognition of his American born duchess, the former Wallis Warfield of Baltimore.

"Certainly I'm coming back," the duke said when asked if he planned to return, although he added that he had not had time to formulate any definite plans for the future.

During his short visit Windsor conferred with his younger brother and successor to the British crown, George VI, and his mother, Dowager Queen Mary Queen of Scots, who was thought to have been one of the strongest opponents to granting the duchess recognition as a royal duchess.

The duke's statement that he was bringing his wife back with him was interpreted to mean that he had been successful in waging a fight for her status.

Butler Football Player Receives New Castle Fund

New Castle football fans have paid, at least in part, their moral obligation to Halfback Richard Bettes of the Butler high school football team and to the fans of Butler.

The pictures accompanying this article show Sports Editor James O. Heyrock of the Butler Eagle presenting to Mr. Bettes a check for $668.04 to defray the hospital and medical expenses attending the treatment of his eye which was injured by a BB pellet fired from the stands here during the Butler game by a misguided 12 year old fan. Immediately after the regrettable occurrence, Carl E. Paisley, business man and sportsman suggested that New Castle fans had a moral obligation in the matter. Fans generally agreed and contributions were started, most of which came from a collection taken at a football game held here later.

When the fund was completed Mr. Paisley got in touch with Sports Editor Heyrock and asked if he would arrange to present the check to young Mr. Bettes. Following Bettes' discharge from Butler County Memorial hospital, Mr. Heyrock took the check sent him by Mr. Paisley and presented it to Mr. Bettes.

The decision of football fans here to make partial amends for the incident here has been met with satisfaction by the citizenry as a whole. As for the Butler newspaper and the fans of the city there was at all times manifest a feeling of sportsmanship, regret, naturally, that one of their young athletes had been injured during play, but at no time was there any animosity or bad feeling.

Butler has always been a friendly rival of New Castle in athletics. Relations for years have been of the finest and it is hoped that fine relationship will continue.

Board To Make Public Football Season Details

Will Present Detailed Account Of Receipts And Expenditures Of Football Season

Fully detailed receipts and expenditures of the football games of the senior high school will be published at the end of the season it was decided by the school board Wednesday night at the regular monthly meeting.

The matter was presented by President Leslie Brindle who said to the board "the citizens and football fans of the city are interested in the financial status of athletics in the school system. Because of the unusual crowds this season there has crept in an idea that the games are making a huge amount of money. This of course is not true, but in order to give the fans a picture I believe we should publish a detailed financial account at the end of the season. The board concurred."

Monthly reports are made to the board by the school treasurer, Howard M. Burr. The balance in the athletic fund at the present time shows $16,158.46, not including $7,500 worth of war bonds on hand. At the beginning of the school year there was a balance of $4,736.32. The sale of season tickets, game admission and other sources came to $17,795.42 and the expenditures thus far this season, including vouchers outstanding $8,339.75.

Receipts thus far this season have been more than they have been in the past several years. With increased receipts some increased expenses in the way of percentages to visiting teams, federal taxes of twenty percent, more police and janitor service. In addition there are salaries of coaches, clerical help, equipment, officials traveling expenses to out of town games, light, and first aid supplies.

Under the attendance falls off appreciably due to bad weather or other causes, the football season should show a profit. There are five games yet to be played. Emergencies may arise which will take some money, and unlooked for expenses may arise. To date there have been no unusual expenses due to emergencies but the season is not yet over. When it is, the citizens and fans will get a complete picture of what money has come in, where it has gone and what is left.

New Trial Will Be Sought For Convicted Man

Charges Against Mrs. Florence Randall Are Reduced To Accessory After Fact

TUNKHANNOCK, Pa., Oct. 11.—(INS).—Defense counsel for Kenneth Ferrell, of Loyalsville, convicted of slaying Charles Rozzoli, 37, planned today to seek a new trial for the 31-year-old lumberman in the Wyoming county court at Tunkhannock.

James S. Fields, Tunkhannock attorney, said he would file the petition by Saturday. The jury recommended life imprisonment for Ferrell.

The defendant was accused by the prosecution of illicit relations with Mrs. Florence Randall, widow of the slain man and 38-year-old mother of two children. She denied the accusation during a brief appearance on the stand.

Reduce Charges

She was scheduled to stand trial for murder, compounding a felony and being an accessory after the fact, but District Attorney Robert W. Trembath Nolle pressed the first two indictments returned by a grand jury. Randall's bullet-riddled body was found in Sugar Hollow on Memorial Day.

Trembath told Judge E. B. Farr that lack of sufficient evidence prompted the move but emphasized that she would be haled into court during the January term to answer a charge that she was an accessory after the fact in the slaying. A conviction would carry a maximum two-year penalty.

Thomas Lewis, of Wilkes-Barre, who represented Mr. Randall, protested Trembath's action and claimed his client's constitutional guarantees were violated.

Judge Farr reduced Mrs. Randall's bail from $11,000 to $500 after Trembath dropped the two charges.

Japanese Navy Is Only Memory

Reduced To Little More Than Collection Of Bookkeepers By MacArthur's Action

TOKYO, Oct. 11.—(INS).—The Japanese navy, which proudly opened fire on the whole Allied world Dec. 7, 1941, was reduced today to little more than a collection of bookkeepers, with the abolition of both the grand body and the grand fleet.

All that is left of the once mighty Imperial fleet is a ministry, a headquarters and two district fleets which have nothing but small vessels.

Naval headquarters will be abolished in a few days and the ministry itself probably will be eliminated by the end of the year after it completes liquidation of the navy.

The grand body, which compares to the American chiefs of staff, quit functioning because it is primarily planning body and, at present, no planning is in prospect.

The Southeast Fleet, based at Rangoon, and the 10th District Fleet, stationed at Singapore, are remaining to return Japanese troops to the homeland.

But the entire navy has only 113 transports totalling about 100,000 tons, with which to return scores of thousands of troops, although some ships of the transport ministry are being so employed.

What do I think of the servant situation?

Why, I haven't any servants!

That's what you think, lady.

Are you sure you've got the right house? We're the I. Budget Smiths. You're probably looking for the J. Tycoon Smiths, over on Golf Terrace.

No, Mrs. Smith, I mean YOU—

Well, something's wrong somewhere. I do all my own housework.

Not quite all, Mrs. Smith. You have some household appliances, haven't you?

Of course, but—

OF COURSE—that's the answer, Mrs. Smith. You DO have a servant, but you take that servant for granted. You've got a combination laundress, cook, cleaning woman, lamp-lighter, seamstress and entertainer—one who doesn't mind a few odd jobs like heating the bath water, guarding your food, fanning your fevered brow—

Oh, you mean ELECTRICITY—

Yes, Mrs. Smith, electricity—the universal servant who works 24 hours a day at low pre-war wages—and never asks for time off. Why, Mrs. Smith, your "servant situation" here in America is better than anywhere else in the world.

"In December 1943, SS Cedar Mill and her French destroyer escort were caught in a violent cyclone and became widely separated. The destroyer, short of fuel and unable to maneuver, was in a sinking condition when the Cedar Mill picked up her distress call.

"Against strong winds and mounting seas, she fought through to the other ship's assistance, succeeded in towed the destroyer for five days until a rendezvous was made with a British man-of-war which relieved her."

The ship was en route from Australia to India when its escort, Le Triomphant, ran out of fuel.

Striking Miners Are Not Eligible For Compensation

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—(INS).—Pennsylvania's striking bituminous miners were informed today by the Department of Labor and Industry that they were not eligible for "immediate" unemployment compensation benefits.

A department spokesman said the work stoppage had been caused by an "industrial dispute." Hence, miners must wait four weeks following the calendar week in which they left work before becoming eligible for jobless benefits.

Although the miners quit the pits during a controversy over bargaining rights for supervisory employees, the spokesman explained the walk-out had been labeled an "industrial dispute."

He was unable to report when initial payments would be made because the miners had quit the pits at different times.

ABOARD THE USS KNAPP Tokyo Bay, Delivered—Robert L. Blewitt, seaman first class, a crew member of the Knapp today watched the final capitulation of the Japanese Empire from the decks of this Third Fleet Destroyer.

The Knapp, one of the first ships to enter Tokyo bay, was anchored nearby the scene of the ceremonies. His brother, Harold Blewitt Jr., pharmacist mate second class, USN, is stationed on Guam. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Blewitt, Sr., reside at 430 Laurel boulevard in New Castle, Pa.

Gen. Kenney Back After Over 3 Years Service In Pacific

Brilliant Leader Of Far East Air Forces Arrives At San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Gen. George C. Kenney, brilliant leader of the Far East Air Forces, arrived home Wednesday after more than three and one-half years on the fighting fronts from Australia to Tokyo.

The general's much-traveled C-54 plane, flying a four-star pennant and the FEAF insignia, set down at 8:11 a. m. (PST) at Hamilton Field just north of San Francisco.

Kenney and three other air force leaders from FEAF are enroute to Washington for conferences on the postwar setup of army air forces in the Pacific.

Kenney's plane preceded those of Lt. Gen. Ennis C. Whitehead, Kansas City, Mo., Fifth Air Force; Maj. Gen. Paul E. Wurtsmith, Detroit, 13th Air Force; and Brig. Gen. Thomas D. White, Springfield, Ill., Seventh Air Force.

Air Power Decisive
"Air power is the dominant and decisive weapon of warfare," Gen. Kenney said in an interview after he was greeted by Maj. Gen. Willis Hale, commander of the Fourth Air Force.

Kenney reported that American fighting men in the Far Pacific are being demobilized as rapidly as ships can transport them home.

A newsman asked the diminutive air chief what he thought of a "united command?"

Kenney flashed his answer: "I've been fighting under one for three and one half years under Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur."

Kenney was MacArthur's top airman since mid-1942 when less than a handful of aircraft were available for his entire air forces in the Southwest Pacific.

He directed the air war all the way from Port Moresby, New Guinea, to Japan, covering more than three million square miles of sky, and his three air forces were gathered on Okinawa when the war ended.

Carbon dioxide absorbed into the system by smokers who inhale, often causes as much as seven per cent hemoglobin of the blood to be rendered ineffective.

Home a School of Christian Living

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The presence of the Lord.

"Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men."—Luke 2:52.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Oct. 14 is Deut. 6:4-9; Luke 2:51, 52; Eph. 5:22, 25, 6:1-4; the Memory Verse being Luke 2:52. "Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man."

The higher in the scale of life an animal may be, the longer it lives under the protecting care of its mother. A bird, for instance, is fed by its mother for only a few weeks; a kitten, puppy, calf or foal is given several months of care; and a human child receives years of care and training before he is considered ready to be self-supporting.

Man is the most important of living creatures. He has the most power, so his period of preparation for taking over his responsibilities is longer than that of any other creature.

In today's lesson we study the home as a school of training.

ground for Christian living. The home has more effect on our lives from cradle to grave, than any other environment in which we find ourselves—more than playground, school, college or business.

We remember our parents' sayings, their attitudes on moral and religious issues; we may even retain some of their peculiarities of speech after years of separation. We bear our burdens gallantly because we remember how they met theirs and the faith they had that strength would be given them to do so, and that in that faith they would come through triumphantly.

In this writer's home we often sang hymns on Sunday evening. To this day the remembrance of those peaceful evenings, the mixed voices, the words we sang, are a happy and tranquilizing influence.

Lord God Is One God

The theme of our last lesson, "The Christian Way of Life," is repeated in the first reference in Deuteronomy, where Moses gives the law of God to his people. "The Lord our God is one Lord," and we must love Him with all our hearts and all our mind and all our strength, and "these words . . . shall be in thine heart."

"And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shall talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up."

And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes.

"And thou shalt write them upon the posts of thy house, and on thy gates."

These "frontlets" were called "ephraim" and are still sometimes worn by orthodox Jews in Europe and especially in Palestine. The device which was attached to the doorpost or gate of the house was called "mezuzah" and is placed in the metal or glass case and fixed to the right-hand doorpost of the outer entrance of every dwelling room in the house.

The New Testament gives us few glimpses of Jesus as a child in His home with His mother, brothers and sisters. Luke tells us that after the visit to Jerusalem, where He talked with the priests in the temple, He returned with them to Nazareth, and "was subject unto them." He also "increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man."

Paul Writes Of Homes
Writing from Rome, Paul set forth to the Ephesians his idea of a good Christian home. "Wives, submit yourselves unto your husbands, as unto the Lord. For the husband is the head of the church, even as Christ is the head of the church." Modern wives may resent this and say it is old-fashioned. But in homes where the husband and father is a fine Christian man and appreciated by the wife, the home really is managed by her with his needs, tastes and comforts first in mind.

But Paul did not stop with the wives' duties to her husband. "Husbands, love your wives," he wrote, "even as Christ also loved the church and gave himself for it." Love and loyalty to a wife means stability and happiness in the home.

"Children obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right. Honor thy father and thy mother." Learning obedience in the home best fits children for obeying the moral and spiritual rules in after-life-God's rules. And one cannot imagine a happy Christian home in which the parents are not honored.

Servants are told their duty to their masters, and masters are counseled to be considerate of their servants, both remembering that in God's sight, "whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free."

Finally, "wherefore take unto you the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand."

"Stand therefore having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness."

Peron May Run For Presidency Of Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Col. Juan D. Peron today placed himself at the service of the people in an apparent bid for the presidency of the Argentine government from which he was ousted as vice-president, war minister and secretary of labor.

A London radio broadcast heard by NBC said the former strong man of Argentine politics overthrown by a bloodless military coup "has told one correspondent he resigned to run for president as a private citizen."

As Peron defended his regime in a nation-wide broadcast last night, Gen. Eduardo Azaola succeeded to the ministry post and it was reported that Gen. Von der Becke, supported by President Edelmiro Farrell, would be named vice-president.

Reorganize Cabinet

Reports were current in Buenos Aires that the entire cabinet would be reorganized.

Dressed in civilian clothes, Peron made his farewell broadcast before a large crowd which gathered at the labor ministry to shout "long live the revolution!" and "Peron for president!" Police dispersed demonstrators against the former vice-president.

Indications that the Farrell regime still maintained a firm grip on Argentine affairs was seen in the suppression of seven Argentine newspapers for too vivid accounts of developments culminating in Peron's ouster.

Two Buenos Aires papers—Clarín and Hoy—suspended publication in protest, with others expected to follow suit.

Meanwhile, International News Service learned that the navy had demanded resignation of the remaining cabinet members, with governmental authority to be placed in the hands of the supreme court.

Army leaders were said to be at odds on the makeup of any proposed new cabinet.

WILL TRY MAN FOR SHOOTING BOY

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Joseph Metzko, 24, of North Braddock was awaiting grand jury action today on his alleged shooting of a seven-year-old boy.

Judge Alexander Cooper declared at a hearing that the preliminary trial was "premature" and if the boy died within a year as a result of the shot, Metzko could be held for murder.

The shooting occurred September 22, Metzko said he had been shooting at a scoreboard while riding in an automobile. The bullet struck James Goodenough, Jr. in the leg, fracturing the bone.

To Honor Memory Of Lt. D. Woolcock

Memorial Service Will Take Place
In First Christian Church
Sunday Morning

Gold star memorial services in honor of First Lt. Daniel Barlow Woolcock, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Woolcock, of Summer avenue, will take place in connection with the regular service in the First Christian church, Sunday morning.

Lt. Woolcock, it will be recalled, was killed in action in Belgium on January 13.

Prior to entering the service he had been a junior deacon at the church, and had always taken an active interest in the affairs of the church. He had also served as junior scoutmaster of the George Washington scout troop and taught a class in the Sabbath school.

Mr. and Mrs. Woolcock have recently received the Purple Heart medal and Bronze Star medal awarded posthumously to Lt. Woolcock. The Bronze Star medal was issued for "heroic achievement in connection with military operations against the enemy from December 16, 1944 to December 23, 1944, and on January 13, 1945 in Germany and Belgium."

Lt. Woolcock was serving with the 106th Division, when the Germans attacked in the Ardennes, and although two of the 106th Infantry Regiment were completely decimated, the regiment with which Lt. Woolcock was serving was able to hold its position, and to withdraw to safety. Later his unit was re-grouped and he went back into action with another unit. He was promoted to first lieutenant on the field of battle, December 27, 1944.

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the church will deliver a sermon on the topic, "Christ and Life," and there will be special musical numbers. The boys choir, directed by Mrs. Richard K. Allen will sing, and there will be solo numbers by James Bowman and Samuel McCleary.

Woman's Assailant Not Yet Located

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Police were still baffled today in their search for the assailant of Mrs. Martha Richer, 45-year-old victim of a hammer assault.

The housewife, who was left unconscious on the basement floor of her home described her attacker as a "thin woman in a long black coat." Her condition prevented longer questioning.

There was no indication that there was any motive for the attack. A pair of horn-rimmed spectacles and Mrs. Richer's description were all police had on which to work.

The victim's husband, William H. Richer, a traveling salesman, and other 18-year-old college student neighbor were to arrive home today.

Radio Commentator Is Among Executed

PARIS, Oct. 11.—(INS)—Jean-Henri Papin, former anti-British radio commentator, was among seven French collaborationists executed by a firing squad this morning. Papin was condemned last month.

AROUND CITY HALL

Director of Streets James Gibson reported today that plans were being made for cutting through a street between Mahoning avenue and Preston avenue to afford better means of travel to the American Can company. The thoroughfare is known as Industrial street.

October 15 is the deadline for cold mix paving on state highways. However, after that date a hot mix paving is permitted. The city is anxious to carry through this year the paving of White street, the cost of which will be carried by abutting property owners.

Some Imports Are Allowed For Japanese

By HOWARD HANDIEMAN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Oct. 11.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has granted Japan the right to resume stringently controlled foreign trade, limited to imports of food, cloth and other essentials of subsistence.

The supreme commander's directive specifies that the defeated nation pay for every ounce of imports and requires that the government first prove inability to produce a sufficiency of commodities sought in foreign markets.

Imports Limited

The imperial government was directed to abstain from requesting permission to import commodities unless:

1. "Such imports are vital to the maintenance of a minimum standard of living for the civil population."

2. "Credits have been established to pay for imports desired, by means of exports approved by this headquarters for this purpose."

The Japanese government was ordered to submit data showing its ability to pay for essential imports through resources available by the end of next year.

Orders Issued

MacArthur also directed the imperial government to:

1. Submit a plan making resources available to provide sufficient foreign exchange.

2. Provide measures to conserve such resources and prevent their use inside Japan if they are unessential to minimum living.

3. "Insure that all practicable measures be taken to achieve maximum use of essential Japanese resources" so that nothing will be imported which could have been produced in Japan.

Specifically included under the directive governing "essential Japanese resources" were crude oil, food, fuel, fertilizer and salt.

MacArthur ordered the Japanese to create an agency responsible for receiving and distributing imports to insure equitable distribution and fair prices.

High priority imports are rice, salt and raw cotton.

Age Of Plenty Is Seen By Professor At State College

STATE COLLEGE, Oct. 11.—A scientifically-created age of plenty where every human being can have adequate food, clothing and shelter, is foreseen by Dr. Frank C. Whitmore of the Pennsylvania State College.

Dr. Whitmore, dean of the School of Chemistry and Physics and winner of the nation's top chemical award, the Willard Gibbs Medal, believes scientists can harness sufficient knowledge to banish want from the world.

"Until the end of the first World War," he says, "it was impossible to meet the material needs of the human race. For some to have plenty, others had to starve. Now science can change that."

Pointing to the scientific advances and synthetic developments of the last quarter century, Dean Whitmore feels confident man can live happily in a world of plenty by creating the things he wants rather than by taking them from others.

"We must never again," he warns, "try to achieve prosperity by raising prices and restricting output. Instead, we must take advantage of every feature of our national life which has helped raise living standards and apply it in ways that will help the world and ourselves."
